

Experience, flexibility and quality time after time.

Consulting Services

SL Pharma Labs has experience in working with both large and small molecule focused clients that range from large, multi-national through virtual start-up organizations. The commonality across the client base from innovator drug companies through generic organizations is a desire for efficient collaborative support that is done on time and on budget every time.

Consulting services include:

- » regulatory documentation support
- » training and staff support for new employees
- » functional consulting for quality, analytical, microbiological and regulatory projects
- » 3rd party conflict resolution
- » support of patent and IP litigation

SL Pharma Labs has a team of experienced leaders that support a wide variety of custom consulting projects. Dr. Waheed Sheikh founded SL Pharma Labs in 1997 and serves as administrative and technical leader for the company. Dr. Sheikh has over 30 years of international pharmaceutical industry experience with an extensive drug development and leadership background in multinational companies including AstraZeneca.

Dr. Sheikh holds a PhD in pharmaceuticals and microbiology from the University of London. His industry expertise includes formulation development, microbiological development, clinical manufacturing and regulatory documentation.
